

FLOWER ON THE HARRIS CASE. STOCKS GO UP AND DOWN.

The Governor Does Not Propose to Try the Man Over Again.

Under Which He Acted in Appointing a Commissioner.

ALBANY, April 24.—"I am surprised," said Gov. Flower to-day, "that the District Attorney of New York seems to be ignorant of the statute under which I have appointed a referee to take testimony in the matter of the application of Carlyle W. Harris for clemency.

"The statute is chapter 913 of the laws of 1867, and has been twice before taken advantage of under similar conditions—once in the case of Charles Giblin and the other in that of Samuel E. Weyman. This law authorizes me to appoint a person to conduct a hearing in the cause pertaining to an application for clemency, and empowers me to issue subpoenas to witnesses.

"It is not expected to try the Harris case over again, but merely to hear such additional evidence as may appear to the referee to be pertinent to the questions raised on the application for clemency.

"Since the application for a new trial for Harris was refused by the Court of Appeals, it has received no more communication from persons desirous to know something of the facts leading to the death of Helen Pitts which were not brought out during the trial.

"In view of these statements, some of which were disputed, I determined to appoint a referee for the sake of getting the additional evidence and a hearing before the facts could be brought out. I could not have taken any other course consistent with a conscientious consideration of the application for clemency.

"I have notified the District Attorney to present either in person or by representation to cross-examine the witnesses sworn in the cause, and introduced the evidence as he may deem necessary in reply. It is not expected that the hearing will occupy more than two days.

TRIED FOR MANSLAUGHTER.

Donohue Will Claim He Struck O'Connor in Self-Defense.

The trial of Frank Donohue for manslaughter in the second degree, in killing William O'Connor, was begun this morning before Justice Ingraham in the Court of Oyer and Terminer.

A jury was seated in less than half an hour, and the court adjourned until 1 P.M.

Assistant District Attorney McIntyre said:

"Mrs. Mary O'Connor, widow of Donohue's victim, carrying a four-month-old baby, was the first witness. She and her husband were returning along Seventh Avenue to their home at 125th Street, when Donohue, who had been insulting remarks to her husband, and, after an exchange of angry words, struck him on the head. O'Connor fell to the gutter, striking his skull against the curbside and fracturing his skull.

Donohue claims that he acted in self-defense. The case is still on.

A WARNING TO BLASS.

Thrown Out by the Children of the Woman Who Was to Marry.

Frank Blas was fined $10 in the Lee Avenue Court, Williamsburg, to-day on a charge of intoxication.

Blas is engaged to be married to Mrs. Mary Herzog, a widow who occupies a flat in the same building, 318 Madison street, as do Mrs. Blas. Mrs. Herzog, who has five children, is the widow of a doctor. Donohue, after an interchange of angry words, struck him on the head. O'Connor fell to the gutter, striking his skull against the curbside and fracturing his skull.

Donohue claims that he acted in self-defense. The case is still on.

Decision Reserved on the Argument to Reduce Col. Ingerson's Fee.

Judge Clement L. Wright, sitting in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, reserved the argument on the appeal of Col. William E. Ingerson, of the Park Theatre, from a decision of Judge Oberne requiring him to pay his wife, Orra Tanner Sims, $7500 pending trial of Col. Ingerson's action to have his marriage annulled.

Other opponents of Home Rule also made motions intended to delay the Irish Government from having the assistance of the British Army in maintaining the authority of the Home-Rule Parliament.

Fire Causes a Fatal Panic in an Edifice at Naples.

Importance of the Meeting Between the Kaiser and the Pope.

NAPLES, April 24.—A fatal panic occurred last evening in the church of Terre Annunziata. During the services, which were attended by a very large number of persons, part of the draperies about the altar was blown against a lighted candle.

The flames spread with great rapidity. The wildest excitement prevailed and women and children were thrown to the floor and trampled upon.

The fire was quickly extinguished, and when some semblance of order was restored it was found that eight women and five children had been crushed to death, while hundreds of others had been more or less seriously injured.

THE POPE AND THE KAISER.

Importance of Their Conference—Humbert's Celebration Goss On.

ROME, April 24.—The official circle here understands that during the interview of yesterday between Pope Leo and the German Emperor, the Pope and the Emperor discussed questions relating to the position of the Roman Catholic church in Germany, and especially the attitude of the members of the centre or clerical party towards the imperial party.

The Emperor's friendly conversation and his valuable gift of a snuff-box bearing his portrait, surrounded by diamonds, to the Papal Legate, probably influenced the Pope.

Subsequently there were frequent reappearances of the increased confidence in the outcome of the interview, by the Boston Herald, and setting forth some suspicious circumstances surrounding him.

Chief McGivern was the repeated proprietor of the Overgarter Manufacturing, on the second floor of the building, having set up business there about three months ago. He employed two girls to operate sewing-machines, and carried about $300 worth of stock, on which he had an insurance of $250.

About the time of opening business the subject was much discussed, and the consensus of opinion is that the tension has been greatly relieved, one of the first substantial evidences of the increased confidence in the outcome is the offer by the Boston Herald, and remanded until 2:30 to-morrow afternoon for examination.

The effect upon the stock market would have been more pronounced but for the heavy gold engagements, or to-morrow, when amount to $4,250,000.

The bulk of this sum was withdrawn from the Sub-treasury last week and about $200,000 was taken out this morning, of which one-half was paid for in Treasury notes.
